

FARBERWARE®

Brand Book

REVISION DATE: JAN 26, 2022

PRIMARY BRAND COLORS

Blue Glory and White Stripe define the Farberware Optimistic Americana colors. They are the only two colors permitted in the logo, and should be prioritized to represent the brand in any communications.

SECONDARY BRAND COLORS

Red Stripe and Cream unite the Optimistic Americana primary colors to create more distinctive and ownable system. Inspired by the colors of the American flag but with a modern tone.

WHEN TO USE

Using Red Stripe and Cream together for different text elements or graphical accents can add depth to a layout.

Cream works well as a background for text, or clipped out images. It can also appear as a text color, reversed out over a dark background like Red Stripe, or Blue Glory.

Black Grill is primarily used for text.

WHEN NOT TO USE

Do not use in combinations that would create illegible text, such as Cream on White Stripe or White Stripe on Cream.

FARBERWARE®

LOGO - UNAPPROVED USAGE GUIDELINES

The integrity of the logo should be maintained in all applications. Never alter the logo or use it in a way that interferes with its legibility.

Unapproved logos colors are any color other than Blue Glory or White.

LOGO - WITH TAG USAGE GUIDELINES

Maintain a clearspace on all sides of the logo equal to the width of the "F".

The logo and tag should only appear in the approved Blue Glory or White brand colors.

The height of the of the tag should be 1/4 the width of the "F", y.

The tag when locked up to the logo should always be represented in Tiempos.

Blue Glory should be used for the logo when it appears on a white background, or on the Cream colors from the brand palette.

On all other colored backgrounds, use White for the logo.

When the logo appears over an image, choose either Blue Glory or White based on which provides the most contrast for legibility.

The only color exception is for one-color printing, when the logo can appear in Black Grill or white with the lines at 20% black.

LOGO - UNAPPROVED USAGE GUIDELINES

The integrity of the logo should be maintained in all applications. Never alter the logo or use it in a way that interferes with its legibility.

Unapproved logos colors are any color other than Blue Glory or White.

LOGO - WITH TAG

It should always appear within the approved logo/tagline lockup, in Blue Glory or White (matching the color of the logo).

Tag is always sentence case in Tiempos Headline SemiBold, with Love set to Tiempos Headline Semibold Italic.

Tag is to be used locked up to the logo on all primary marketing materials where space is not limited.

The lines should be in Parchment and is the width of the logo (Not including the Registered Trademark.)

Tagline can be used on it's own without the logo.

It could never be used in conjunction with a tagline, or added to social avatars.

LOGO – MEDIA USAGE GUIDELINES

We recommend using the White logo version when the logo is applied throughout a video.

Please adhere to the “minimum clear space” principle when placing the logo near the edges. Logo is 25% x width of the exported video width.

It is recommended that the logo is placed at the bottom left of the video 2x the width F, z so it does not obstruct the cookware or compete against the channel logo or avatar.

Art and End card logo x width should be 50% width of the exported video width to ensure maximal legibility on smaller devices.

FARBERWARE®

Cook with love, cook with Farberware.

LOGO – UNAPPROVED MEDIA USAGE

The integrity of the logo should be maintained in all applications. Never alter the logo or use it in a way that interferes with its legibility.

Do not use the logo over busy or without proper contrast.

Do not use the logo with transparency. Always use White or Blue Glory to maintain legibility.

OPTIMISTIC AMERICANA

Graphical Elements

Optimistic Americana is represented by simple and straightforward graphical elements. It is never illustrated as “AMERICAN” or the “American Flag.” It’s a flavorful nod to be used as an accent element.

The stars can be used as a decorative element to a subtle touch of flavor to a badge.

Thin and simple lines can represent the American Stripes and help divide the content in a straightforward way.

Lines and stars are to be in Parchment or White Stripe.

For Badge usage please see Americana Badges.

OPTIMISTIC AMERICANA

Americana Type

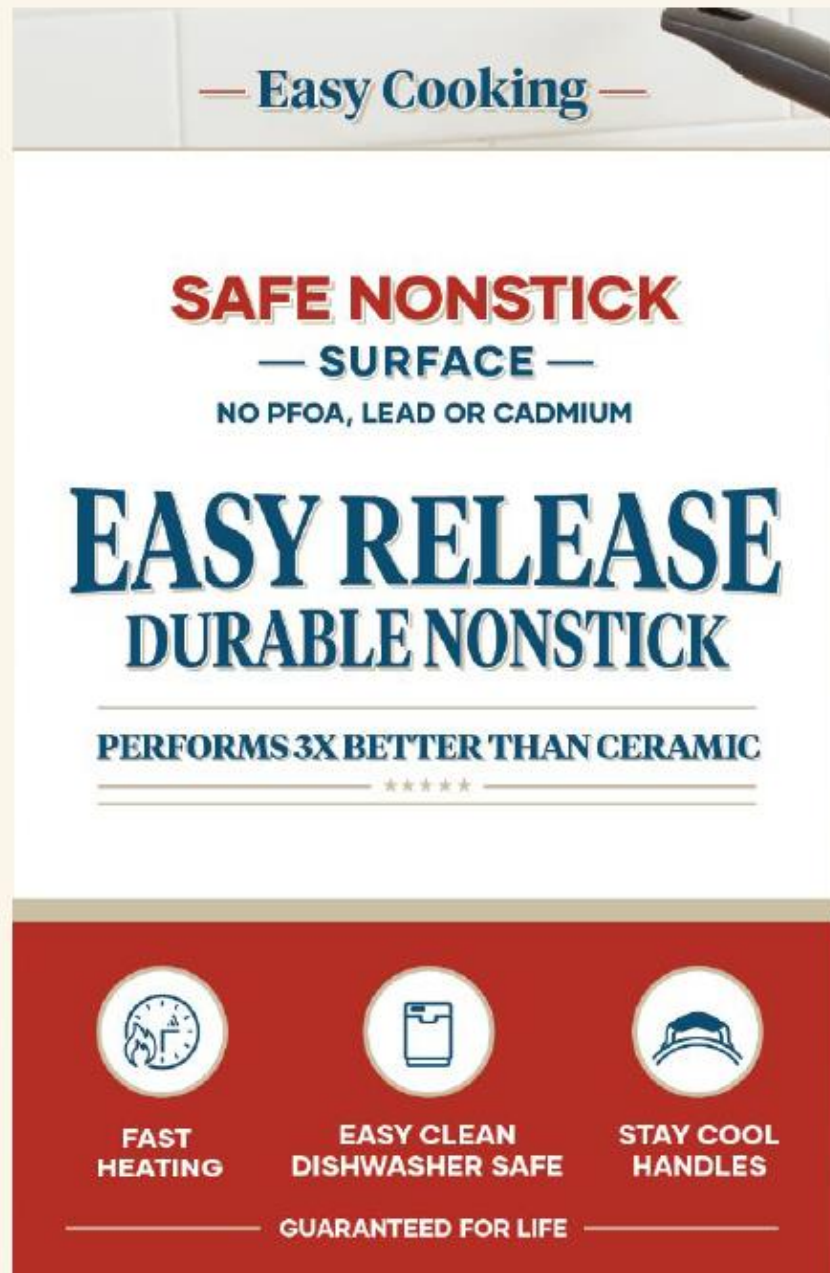

On Farberware packaging and print collateral we can bring the American traditions to life with with typography inspired by type of that era.

On primary headlines we can use arched type to emphasis the features and benefits of our cookware.

With drop shadow etchings we can add visual interest and flavor to the layouts

For all digital uses we should never use arched type or drop shadow etchings to maintain legibility accessibility across digital devices.

Please see the Brand Assets section for more examples.

FARBERWARE®

Farberware understands the true value of a home cooked meal. We've been welcomed into the kitchens of families big and small for over 120 years, helping them put their best meal on the table night after night.

So when you're cooking for your family, remember:

Cook with love, cook with Farberware.

Americana Stars

We can bring the American traditions to life with with graphical stars inspired by the Americana era.

Each cookware collection can be identified by the number of stars on the packaging:

Best cookware – five stars.

Better cookware– four stars

Good cookware – three stars

The stars are always centered along the horizontal axis of the content they are supporting.

Stars can only be used individually as graphical accents on badges. Refer to Graphic Elements guidelines.

Do not use any other star shape.

Simple Iconography

Icons can accompany product feature copy to help communicate the benefit quickly and add visual interest.

They are meant to be used when space is limited and there are multiple product features to communicate.

Icons are to be simple, single line graphics, that communicate the feature or benefit with as few lines as possible

The icons should never be complex or illustrated with detail. They should feel familiar and simple to understand.

Our icons should also be paired with all-caps Gilmer type.

OPTIMISTIC AMERICANA

Americana Badges

Badges provide a focal point for a feature or benefit of the cookware. Our Optimistic Americana typography style adds flavor to the details.

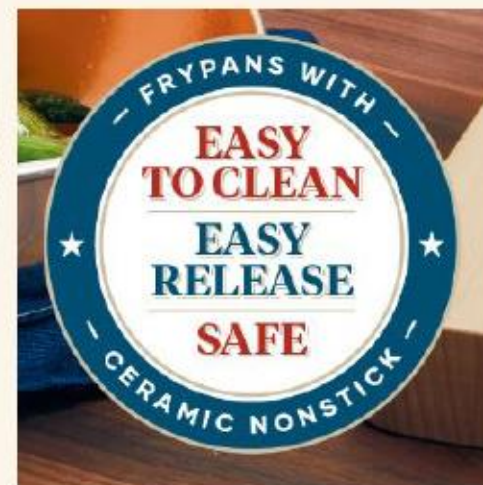

Ribbons are used to attach a callout to a piece of cookware. And should always be aligned to the bottom of Packaging.

Circles and Hexagons shaped badges should feel like stamps of approval and are placed on the right side of our packages.

Badge colors should use our primary brand colors and are paired with the accent color of the current collection.

Our Icons can be used. See Iconography for more information.

Example Applications:
Packaging and PDPs.

The Right Voice

Our copy must always fit the medium. We must stay consistent in WHAT we say and be adaptive in HOW we say it as we move from medium to medium.

Brand advertising

Here we're appealing to our Nurturing Foodie at the most emotional level. Tapping into their love of caring for their people through cooking.

Social Media

Here, we can use a more expressive voice. Showing our love through food is our thing. And if it's your thing, you'll appreciate everything we bring to the table (kitchen, dining, and metaphorical). We're not just selling cookware; we're letting our consumers buy into a lifestyle that aligns with their values.

PDP

This is where customers need that rational nudge to support their emotional decision. Always begin by tying our products to our Nurturing Foodie's passion, and deliver our RTB's as efficiently as possible.
